This role involves private lesson instruction with students of all age and ability levels, across all relevant styles. Summer teaching days are flexible; school year teaching will take place on Saturdays (morning and afternoon), and will include leadership of a student Brass Ensemble from 11:30-12:30 each week.

All of our faculty members are entrusted with developing students of all ages and ability levels. The role has considerable room for growth by way of building ensembles, classes, and a culture of excitement around brass pedagogy and performance at Groton Hill Music. The ability to inspire students while demonstrating and instructing strong instrumental technique is required.

Groton Hill Music faculty members are responsible for: 1) inspiring and sharing their love of music with their students; 2) setting a high bar for students' levels of technical skill and musicality; 3) clearly communicating expectations and working toward shared goals; and 4) advocating for their students to engage in additional IHM programs and special events to deepen their musical development and their commitment to their studies.

Groton Hill Music offers many ancillary benefits to our faculty members, including a variety of paid professional performance opportunities and funding for professional development (by application). Regular weekly teaching throughout the school year is required as is attendance at an annual fall faculty meeting, hosting at least one Voice Soirée recital, and the completion of occasional clerical tasks. Timeliness and reliability, as well as strong communication practices with both students/families and school staff, are essential.
